The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any other Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the in-sured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of THE CASH AND MUTUAL

PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 16th of March, 1854, since which time over five thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over thirty thou-sand dollars have been paid for losses. Having trebled our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospects of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitra' is of the County where such loss happened, to Lt mutually

[From the New York Evening Post.] THE UNDER DOG IN THE FIGHT. BY DAVID BARKER. I know that the world, that the great, big world,

From the peasant up to the king.
Has a different tale from the tale I tell, And a different song to sing. But for me-und I care not a single fig If they say I am wrong or am right-

I shall always go for the weaker dog, For the under dog in the fight. I know that the world, that the great, big world,

Will never a moment stop To see which dog may be in the fault, State and City Bonds, 6 per cents 74,245.00 But will shout for the dog on top. But for me, I never shall pause to ask

Which dog may be in the right, For my heart will beat, while it beats at all, For the under dog in the fight. Perchance what I've said I had better not said,

Or 'twere better I had said it incog, But with heart and with glass filled chock to the Here's health to the bottom dog. EXETER, Maine, March, 1859.

EDWARDS' RESOLUTIONS. Resolved, Never to do anything out of revenge. Resolved, Never to suffer the least emotion of anger to irrational beings.

Resolved, Never to lose one moment of time, but Resolved. To live at all times as I think it best in my devout frames, and when I have clearest notions of the Gospel and another world. Resolved, Never to do anything which, if I should see in another. I should account a just occasion to despise him for, or to think any way the more meanly of him.

Resolved, Never to speak in narration anything

Resolved, Never to speak ill of any person except some particular good call for it.

"NECK TWISTING."

There are practices tolerated in religious congregations which Christians, who are jealous for the honor of their master's house. should utterly condemn. Decorum is the hand maid of devotional feeling, and for this reason the house of God should never be disturbed by the slightest approach to irreverence. It is a part of my religion, said a pious old lady, when asked why she went early to church, "It is a part of my religion not to interrupt the worship of others." And we believe if many a country congregation made it a part of their religion not to twist their necks almost out of joint to witness the entrance of every person who passes up the aisle of the meeting-house, it would be better for both their necks and their religion. A gross abuse of religious decorum sometimes needs harsh medicine as a remedy.

We do not know whether it would be proper for some of our good ministering brethren who are sorely tried by the neck-twisting propensities of their congregations, to use that adopted by Henry Clay Dean, who was at one time chaplain of Congress; but we give it for their consideration, of course to adopt or reject, as they please. The anecdote is from the Pacific Methodist:

Being worried, one afternoon, by this turning practice in his congregation, Mr. Dean stopped in his sermon and said:-"Now you listen to me, and I'll tell you who the people are, as each one of them comes He then went on with his discourse, until a gentleman entered, when he bawled out like an usher, "Deacon A., who keeps a shop over the way," and then went on with his

Presently another man passed up the aisle, and he gave his name, residence and occupation; so he continued for some time. At length some one entered the door who was unknown to Mr. Dean, when he cried out, "A little old man with a drab coat and an old white hat; don't know him, look for yourselves."

That congregation was cured.!
